

Dear valued customer

I wanted to write to you at the earliest opportunity to let you know some exciting news!

On August 31st, 2022, Swevet was acquired by MWI Animal Health.

MWI Animal Health (part of the AmerisourceBergen family), is a leading global animal health distribution business with established networks across the UK and US. Like Swevet, MWI Animal Health shares our passion for animal welfare, support for animal health professionals, and dedication to providing quality service.

MWI has an expansive customer base including companion animal veterinary practices, production animal facilities and practices, and retail distributors. With our leading Swedish network in the industry, this new partnership will help us bring additional services and solutions to you, our customers.

Importantly, this the acquisition will not change how you do business with Swevet today. The investment has been made because of customers like you and the value you bring to the animal health industry. We are the same good people, working the same way, to deliver the same quality service to support the health of the nation's animals.
